CONCURRENT SESSIONS

A. Common Tax Risks & Opportunities for Connecticut-Based Businesses

Patrick J. Duffany, JD, CPA, Partner, CohnReznick

Cindy R. Galamgam, JD, LLM, Manager, CohnReznick LLP

Businesses operating or based in Connecticut are typically doing business not only in Connecticut but also in a number of other states. During this session, we will provide an overview of common tax risks with respect to Connecticut taxes as well as an overview of what you need to know about state and local taxes in other jurisdictions. We will also discuss some of the benefits available to Connecticut-based businesses including tax credits—and the latest on apportioning income for flowthrough entities.

B. Sales & Use Taxes on Services

Tony Switajewski, CPA, BlumShapiro & Company P.C.

Douglas A. Joseph, CPA, Tax Partner, BlumShapiro & Company P.C.

Every year our state sales and use taxes get more complex, especially as they apply to services. As a result, nearly every business overpays some portion of its sales and use tax obligations—or unknowingly exposes itself to liability. Now more than ever, you can't afford to run afoul of Connecticut's rules and regulations. Failing to understand changes in sales and use taxes puts your business in danger of noncompliance, which could cost your company penalties and interest. This session shows you how to reduce your risk and save money.

C. Sales & Use Taxes for the Manufacturing Industry

Robert L. Day, III, Associate, Shipman & Goodwin

Jennifer Jensen, Director, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP

Manufacturing involves some of the most complicated sales and use tax provisions. This session covers all the basics, latest developments, and strategies for handling problems you may encounter.
