

Connecticut law only requires 1,000 hours of actual work for an employee to be eligible for leave as opposed to the 1,250 hour requirement under federal law.