

CCIA WEBINAR EVENT

Special Presentation by Shipman & Goodwin LLP

The Next Phase: Vaccines in the Workplace and What's Next in the COVID-19 Pandemic

Thursday, January 28, 2021 at 1:00 PM

Register online to receive WebEx invitation @:

<https://ctconstruction.webex.com/ctconstruction/onstage/g.php?MTID=e2dad6dd3fb6eee4795fe8c26847544b>

The ongoing COVID pandemic continues to pose significant challenges for employers with the current wave continuing to set new records. But there is some reason for hope. Safe and effective vaccines are starting to be distributed around the state. While healthcare workers and nursing home patients were among the first groups to receive the vaccines, a much broader distribution is now expected to occur this month. However, vaccines present their own challenges and questions for employers.

SHIPMAN

Guest Speakers

Julie Fay

Peter J. Murphy

Daniel A. Schwartz

Join us as we hear three Shipman & Goodwin LLP experienced labor & employment law attorneys, Julie Fay, Peter J. Murphy, and Daniel A. Schwartz, address frequently asked questions regarding vaccines in the workplace including:

- ◆ Can (and should) employers mandate vaccinations for employees?
- ◆ Regardless of any mandate, are there legal exceptions that employers must accommodate?
- ◆ What is the current status of the state's vaccination programs?
- ◆ What legal risks exist for employers who assist with the mass vaccination efforts?
- ◆ What practical considerations should employers be concerned about?
- ◆ Is a mandatory vaccination program the subject of collective bargaining?
- ◆ How should an employer address confidentiality concerns?

REGISTER NOW

Registration is required. Upon registration, you will receive a registration approval notification with the WEBEX meeting link to join.

Questions, please email: Jean Barlage at jbarlage@ctconstruction.org.