

OUR FIRM FOUNDATION

Past. Present. Future.

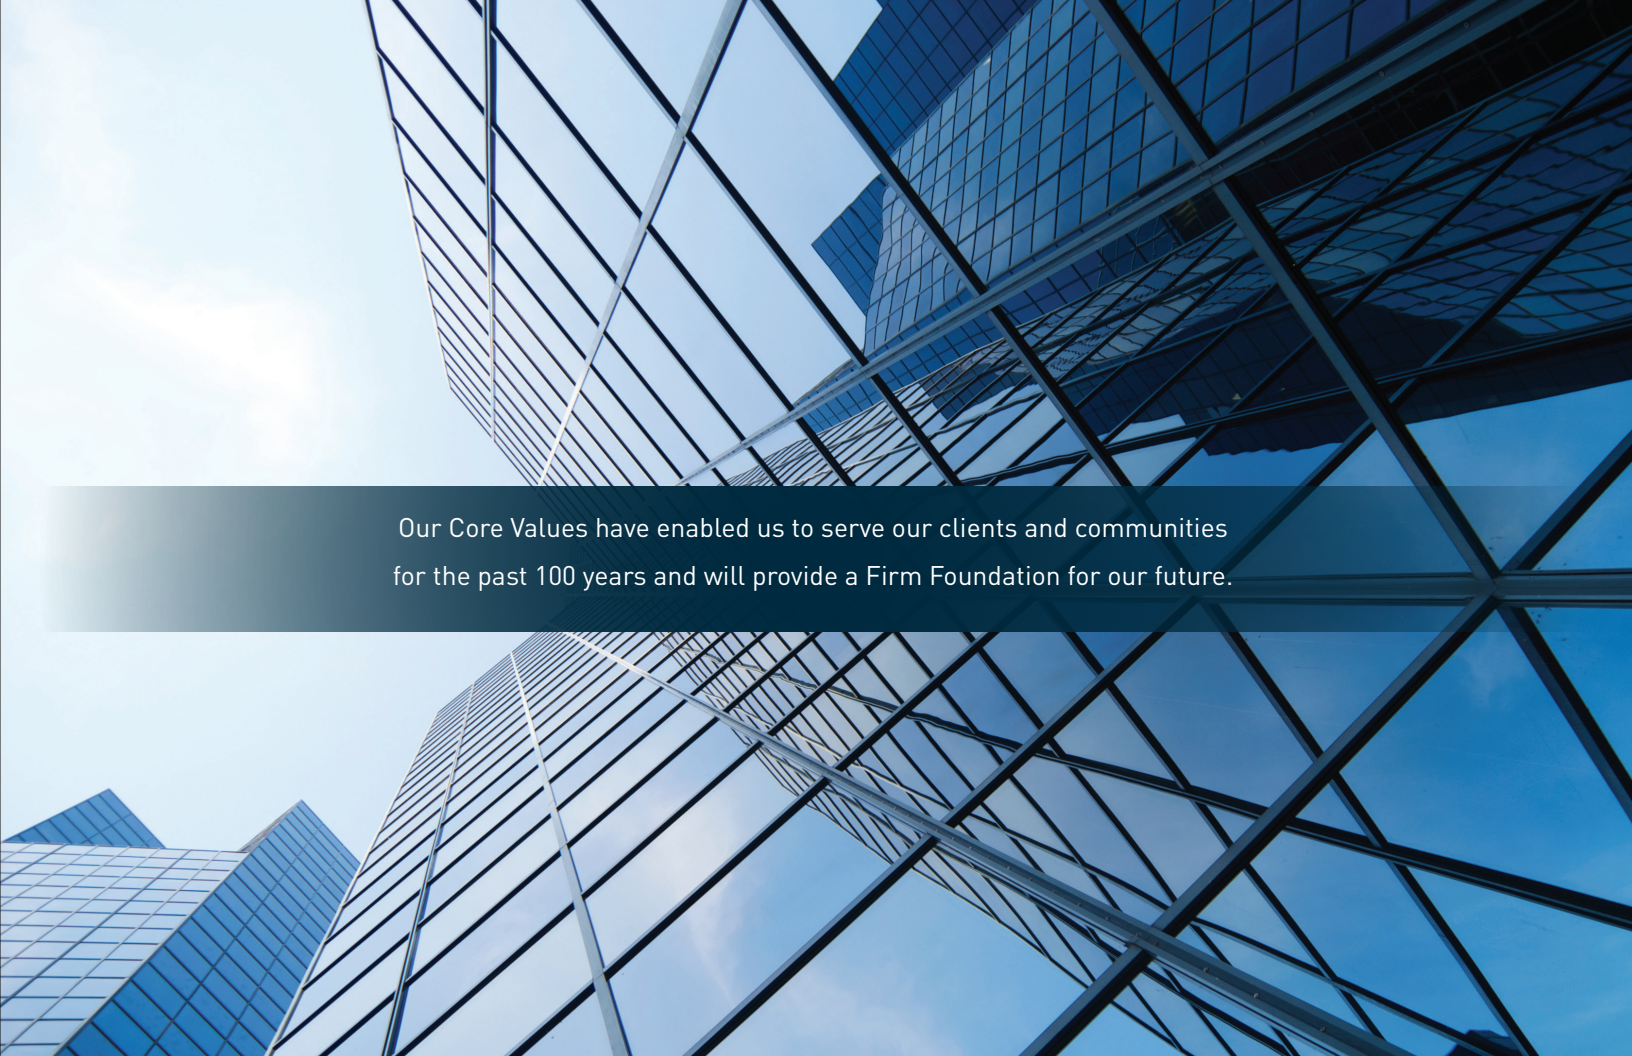

Since its founding in 1919 by Arthur Shipman and Charles Goodwin, Shipman & Goodwin's mission is, and has been, to provide excellent legal services to help our clients achieve their goals. Through good times and bad, global wars and conflict, economic booms and recessionary cycles, and the substantial growth of the Firm beyond its origins in Hartford, the Firm has not wavered in its commitment to this mission, its clients and the communities it serves.

As we reflect upon the past century, and look to the future, it is clear that the success of our Firm has been built on a Firm Foundation of Core Values. Our adherence to these core values is in part what has enabled the Firm to survive and thrive over the past 100 years.

They have become part of who we are both individually and collectively.

We believe that they remain the guiding principles that govern our dealings inside the firm, with our clients, and in our communities and the larger world.

A low-angle, upward-looking photograph of several modern skyscrapers with glass facades. The buildings are set against a clear blue sky with a bright sun flare in the upper left corner. The perspective creates a sense of height and architectural scale. A dark, semi-transparent horizontal band is overlaid across the middle of the image, containing white text.

Our Core Values have enabled us to serve our clients and communities for the past 100 years and will provide a Firm Foundation for our future.
