

CATASTROPHIC INJURY AND WRONGFUL DEATH

Our team's results speak for themselves and include multi-million recoveries obtained in settlements, jury verdicts, and arbitrations. However, in addition to our results, we pride ourselves on the personalized customer service we provide to our clients while we handle their case. At Shipman, we litigate cases involving catastrophic personal injury and/or death in both federal and state courts. From simple motor vehicle accidents to complex product-related injuries, our lawyers represent the interests of individuals and their families who have suffered life-altering injuries or death. Our team handles cases involving death, physical disfigurement, loss of or limitation to bodily functions, paralysis, traumatic brain injury, amputation, sexual abuse and burn injuries.

Lawyers in this group work alongside a large team of attorneys in a firm that has been in business for more than 100 years. Our catastrophic injury lawyers have tried many significant cases to verdict. The firm uses current case management technology and trial presentation software, and works with a wide range of technical and medical experts. Members of the group regularly teach at law schools and at trial advocacy seminars.

The catastrophic injury team is proud of the results they have achieved for their clients, which include verdicts and settlements over $1,000,000. If you have questions or would like to discuss a new case, please contact Bill Ronalter at (860) 251-5126.

Bill's practice is devoted to representing individuals who have sustained substantial personal injuries and wrongful death cases. At Shipman, Bill focuses on the quality of his representation of clients in catastrophic injury cases, rather than the quantity of injury cases he is involved in at any given time. This focus allows him the flexibility to be responsive and to listen mindfully to his clients and their needs. Bill prides himself on communicating regularly and proactively with his clients as developments warrant. Bill has more than 30 years of experience handling personal injury cases in various roles, including plaintiff's lawyer, defense lawyer, and as a consultant for an insurance company. Bill represented 8 of the 10 passengers that were killed or injured in the crash of a B-17 airplane at Bradley International Airport in October 2019. He is a Board Certified Civil Trial Advocate, as certified by the National Board of Trial Advocacy.

Matt Gibbons has experience litigating in both state and federal courts, including thorny jurisdictional and procedural issues. Matt's practice includes representing individuals who have been injured.

Matt is a former infantry squad leader in the United States Marine Corps and he applies his experience in the Marines to his work as a plaintiff's personal injury lawyer by fighting aggressively for the rights of and interests of his clients. Prior to joining Shipman, he was an associate at a North Carolina firm where he focused on complex commercial litigation, medical malpractice defense, product liability, class actions, and intellectual property litigation.
